BLOCKHELDEN international bouldercup Frankenjura 2016 on July 9th

If you want to make money, then come to Franconia - or just for the fun! One of the best Bouldering gyms in Germany, the BLOCKHELDEN invites you for the international bouldercup Frankenjura 2016 on Saturday, July 9th, 2016 in Erlangen, Germany. The qualifying round will last from 1pm to 5pm, with finals starting at 6pm.

Men: 1st price: 1000€, 2nd price: 500€, 3rd price: 250€

Women: 1st price: 1000€, 2nd price: 500€, 3rd price: 250€ and great price raffle with goods worth 4290€ in total. One of the greatest climbing areas, the Frankenjura, is only 30min away, so if you are planning on extending your stay, you can camp next to our gym and ask top climber Markus Bock for advice where to find the nicest routes nearby.

Date: Saturday, July 9th, 2016

Organizer: BLOCKHELDEN Boulderhalle Erlangen, Weisendorfer Str. 18, 91056 Erlangen.

Sponsoring: Next to bergfreunde.de, who has been sponsoring the bouldercup Frankenjura 2015 already, outdoor giant mammut.ch has now become the 2nd main sponsor for the event. We are happy and proud to get such great support from our partners - thank you so much!

Who can register?

There is no limitation. For minors younger than 14 years the consent of the parent or guardian is required. Please download pdf here and bring it with you to registration. Minors under 14 years must be accompanied by an adult.

Classes:

Youth: girls and boys born 2000 and later

Bavarian University Championship: students and employees from Bavarian universities

Adults: women and men born 1999 and earlier

40 plus: women and men born 1976 and earlier

Schedule:

from 12pm Registration

1pm to 5pm Qualifying

5:10pm Isolation closes

6pm to 7pm Finals

from 7:30pm Award ceremony of all classes and prize raffle

Mode:

Qualifying: Open mode. Of the 56 boulders, the twelve most difficult "Top" climbed boulders are counted for each climber. The number of attempts is not included in the scoring and the rating is to be entered on a scorecard. Each boulder will have a point value, with boulders 1-10 (Orange) worth 1 point, boulders 11-20 (Green) worth 2 points, boulders 21-30 (Grey) worth 3 points, boulders 31-40 (Brown) worth 4 points, boulders 41-48 (Red) worth 5 points and boulders 49-56 (yellow) worth 6 points.

Finals: The six best male and female participants in the qualification will compete in the finals. The women's and men's finals will take place on adjacent walls at the same time. The finals will consist of three boulders, which may be considered before 10 minutes by the referee. Each boulder has, in addition to the defined start holds, a marked zone hold in the middle and a finish hold at the top. Participants have up to five attempts to complete each boulder or to reach its zone hold. Here, the selected top or zone hold must be held in control and not only touched. After each attempt, there is a change of climber. The attempts are initiated by start signal. From the start signal the respective finalists have 20 seconds to enter the boulder. If this time is exceeded, the test is regarded as unsuccessful. The participants may not watch other participant's attempts. Observing other participants is only permitted if the boulder has been completed successfully or all five attempts were unsuccessful. In the evaluation, the number of attempts and the reached tops and zones will count. If a tie occurs, the points obtained in the qualifying round will be counted. Should this also result in a tie, the placement and the profits are shared.

Jury:Dr. Guido Köstermeyer

Climbing 8c+, lecturer at the University of Erlangen, former coach of the German national team and former vice president of the German Alpine Association, author of the classic training book, "Peak Performance" and the training page klettertraining.de he is justifiably considered a luminary of climbing and training theory. He has supported the boulder cup Frankenjura ever since the beginning and will be refereeing the finals.

Routesetters:Johannes Kielmann, Joseph Wetzel, Marcel Barteldress

This year the team of Kletterkultur will decorate our walls with tricky competition boulders for you. Thanks to you, guys, and of course special thanks to our great sponsor bergfreunde.de, who makes that feasible.

Location and Directions:

BLOCKHELDEN Bouldering gym Erlangen, Weisendorfer Str. 18, 91056 Erlangen.

What else?Boulder market:

New this year: in our boulder market you can browse, shop or even sell stuff throughout the day. BLOCKHELDEN boulderboutique will sell brands like E9, Nihil, Metolius, Jung, Steinwild, Prana, Ocu, Tenaya, La Sportiva, etc. for special prices to all fashion-conscious people and is looking forward to many sellers who join them in the fleamarket area. Does this sound familiar: the Internet has seduced you to buy the most beautiful things and when you open the package it is sheer horror in your face, or you realize that you already have the same item 20x in the back of your closet...? You will probably find a new owner for your stuff in our boulder market. Please make sure the stuff you want to sell has something to do with climbing, etc. to raise your chances of finding a buyer. This way, we can make our contribution to sustainability and saving resources.

Just come here, put your wares on one of our beer tables and sell as much as you can. No registration necessary. The bouldermarket runs from 11am till 6pm.

Who prefers bouldering instead of selling can give his things to BLOCKHELDEN who will donate the money earned to the charitable organization: Children and medical aid for Laos of Prof. Dr. Volker Schöffl, a passionate climber, doctor of the national climbing and bouldering team, member of BLOCKHELDEN, specialist in surgery, Facharzt für Chirurgie, orthopaedics and and casualty surgery at the hospital Bamberg, participant and Standby-doctor at the international bouldercup Frankenjura 2016.

Food & Drinks:

Of course, there's only the best of the best - freshly grilled bbq from noon. Of course we also have delicious snacks and cold drinks, so you can catch a break during the competition.

Party:

After-competition party with bonfire, Franconian beer, slacklining (the latter two don't get along very well, but still) and much more.

Stay overnight:

You can pitch a tent or sleep in your van on site!
